

Dated: 28.02.2025

Time: 1.5 Hr

Mid-Term Examination
(Sociological Theory: SOC210)

Long Answers- 20 Marks- 500- 800 words

Q1. Sociological theory and consciousness sets itself apart from everyday common sense. Why does it create a separation between the two?

OR

Q2. What is modernity? In 2025 do you believe the anxiety around modernity (characterized by the arguments of anti-enlightenment thinkers) continues? Through an example of a contemporary issue in India discuss whether anxieties around modernity have declined or strengthened.

OR

Q3. Read the lines below and answer the question:

The state of Uttarakhand has passed a law in 2025, requiring all those belonging to the state, and who are in a live-in relationship in Uttarakhand or other parts of India, to register their live-in relation by filling a 16- page form. If they fail to register they can be jailed.

What sociological concept can be used to explain this development. Identify the appropriate concept, define it, and discuss it with relation to the example above, to illustrate how the concept is useful to understand this issue.

OR

Q4. Why does Marx acknowledge capitalism as both a useful development and critique it for its exploitative nature? Discuss what he credits as the good attributes of capitalism and what are its dangers?

OR

Q5. In the film Office Space, is Peter is bored in his work and finds his life to be 'meaningless and trite*'. Discuss and analyse why such a state of meaninglessness requires sociological explanation.

Short Notes- 10 Marks- 100-150 words

Answer any one option

- a) Dialectical Materialism
- b) Organic solidarity
- c) 'a case of the Mondays'- as seen on Office Space
- d) Positivism

*trite meaning- dull